

Real Tech Experience

July 11th-July 15th 9-5pm

Location: Southwest Virginia Higher Education Center

Ages: Rising 6th-8th Graders

Cost: $150.00

With the growing need to understand and utilize information technology in a rapidly changing 21st century, Barter Theatre's Project REAL (Reinforcing Education Through Artistic Learning) and the Southwest Virginia Higher Education Center recognize the need to educate and prepare our digital generation and future of America with informational technology skills. This week-long REAL Tech Experience will give students the opportunity to explore 3-D printing, computer drafting, technology in forensics, and Lego robotics reinforced through Barter Theatre's Project REAL, allowing students to discover the imagination, problem solving and critical thinking skills behind information technology in an energetic, hands-on environment.

Student must provide a recommendation from their teacher to attend this camp.

REAL TECH CAMP POLICIES

We have included in your packet of forms the Camp Policies for your child's age group. These forms need to be reviewed with your child, signed by both of you, and returned to the Higher Education Center. However, acceptance into our program must carry with it the responsibility to abide by these rules for the protection of all students staff. If you have and questions about the interpretation of these policies, please check with the Higher Education Center.

- Students must be dropped off between the hours of 8:30 and 8:55 AM each day. Parent must accompany student into the building and sign them into the program. Likewise students must be picked up between 3 and 3:15 PM each day and a parent must enter the building to sign the child out. Do Not Be Late! Optional supervision is available from 3:15pm-5pm for an additional $5 a day.
- No flip flops and shirts must be worn at all times
- Student can bring a backpack with all personal items needed for the day.
- Some activities will be outdoors so dress appropriately.
- Student must bring a bag lunch each day including a snack. Drinks will be provided along with an afternoon snack.
- Verbal or physical abuse of any kind will not be tolerated under any circumstances and is grounds for dismissal from the camp. Parents will be contacted immediately to pick up their child.
- Use of drugs and alcohol, including cigarettes, is not allowed. (Please recognize abuse of any substances will not be tolerated).
- . Parents will be notified whenever a camper requires medical attention for illness or injury or in the event of an emergency.
- It is our goal that all students are committed to respecting themselves, others and property. This means respect for the diversity within our camp as well as consideration of all other camps and staff within the university community as a whole.
- Students are asked to respect the authority of counselors and staff by following established rules and expectations for all camp activities since other events will be taking place in the building.
- We recognize that you may need to cancel your registration. You will receive a full refund minus the $50 non-refundable fee if you cancel by July 4 at 5 p.m.

Students agree to abide by these policies while attending the Summer Real Tech Program and understand that violation of any of these policies or other rules of appropriate behavior results in immediate dismissal from the program. In addition, the Summer Real Tech Program reserves the right to dismiss any student who demonstrates any medical or psychological needs beyond the capabilities of our staff.

Student must provide a recommendation from their teacher to attend this camp.

I acknowledge that I have read and agree to the above terms and conditions.

Acceptable Use Policy

Child's Name: _____ (please print clearly)

The computer network and Internet services utilized by the Summer Enrichment Program (SEP) have been established for academic purposes and are to be used for academic pursuits. This program operates under a system of trust and shared responsibility in pursuit of healthy intellectual and social growth. This document assumes that trust and clarifies those responsibilities. Agreement to enroll in SEP implies that the student and his or her parent(s) or guardian(s), have read this statement and understand and accept the burden of responsibility it places upon the user of computer technology provided by the school.

Students enjoy both the right and the privilege to use equipment that the school provides. With these rights and privileges come responsibilities. As our technology changes, so will these rights and responsibilities. Since technology changes so fast, no use statement can be final or absolutely comprehensive. Violation of this policy is a serious offense and may subject the student to discipline.

- Honor. Computers may not be used in any way to lie, cheat, or steal. Electronic passwords, electronic mailboxes, and electronic files are forms of personal property; accessing, using, or tampering with the digital property of others without explicit permission is considered a discipline offense.
- Privacy. At all times all workstations, software, and all files and messages that reside on school-owned equipment including all student files that reside on a school server are the property of SEP. The program has the right to access, examine, and remove any files on its equipment, including electronic messages, at any time.
- Internet. Along with the richness of resources and extraordinary communications potential, the Internet can deliver material unsuitable for school-age children. While responsible faculty and staff will monitor student use of computers as often as possible, the final responsibility for the appropriate use of the Internet rests upon the student. Students may not access inappropriate material of any kind. If a student is in doubt about what constitutes inappropriate material or unethical use, he or she must consult with a faculty member before accessing or using the material.
- Research. When using the school's technology to reach material on the a World Wide Web, the student accepts responsibility for his or her activity in searching for digital material as well as for the ethical use of said retrieved information. Students must adhere to all copyright regulations, cite sources appropriately and may not plagiarize.
- Communication. Students may use computers for communications relating to academic assignments and officially sanctioned school activities. Acceptable e-mail protocol requires that all standards governing polite and respectful oral or written communication apply to electronic communication. Students must attach their own names to any message they send. Misrepresenting one's identity in electronic correspondence is not allowed.
- Software & Settings. No user is permitted to download, possess, load, or run executable files onto the school's computing equipment, or otherwise to use on school equipment and software not provided by the school, without the express, informed, and written consent of technology administrators. Deliberately changing in any way the software configuration of the network or of any individual workstation will be treated as vandalism. Such changes include, but are not limited to, downloading files, copying software, and bypassing any restrictions set by the school's technology administrators.
